NOTE FROM THE DIRECTOR

KRISTIE CARR | DIRECTOR CHERYL CLARK | ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT
TRISHA DAVISON | EVENTS & MEMBERSHIP COORDINATOR

It's our pleasure to welcome you to our unique town

On behalf of the Maquoketa Area Chamber of Commerce, welcome! I love that you're here and hope you enjoy your stay. Our "One of A Kind" community has so much to offer.

This guide offers a taste of all there is to see and do during your visit - recreation, shopping, food, cultural amenities, special events, and more - but, let me be honest - nothing can take the place of exploring our streets, experiencing our scenic landscape, meeting our community members, and engaging in our communities culture. You never know, you might love it so much that one day, you'll decide to call it home too!

I encourage you to support our amazing local businesses while you are here. The ones listed in the directory, at the back of this guide, are proud members of our Chamber and it's because of their support that we are able to reinvest in our beautiful community.

Maquoketa is centrally located - we are 30 minutes from Dubuque, 30 minutes from the Quad Cities and just a 3-hour drive from Chicago or Des Moines - which makes us a great day trip or weekend getaway!

I invite you to stop by the Chamber office located in our downtown - we would love to tell you all about the fabulous amenities Maquoketa has to offer. We can answer questions, make recommendations, help with referrals, or just chat and get to know you. It's our pleasure to serve you and welcome you to Maquoketa.

Executive Director
Maquoketa Area
Chamber of Commerce

Investment in our Chamber provides our Members increased visibility and cost-effective advertising, quality professional development opportunities, advocacy on their behalf for the success of local business at a local, state and federal level, and opportunities to connect and strengthen their network. Associate Memberships are available to those who do not own a business, which help to further support our efforts in the community.

AREA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

WELCOME TO MAQUOKETA, IOWA

ONE OF A KIND

Welcome to the City of Maquoketa (pronounced Ma-coke-eta), a charming, eastern Iowa community of some 6,100 One-of-a-Kind residents. While Maquoketa may be small-in-size, it boasts a growing base of industries and opportunity. In the past decade, Maquoketa has welcomed the state-of-the-art Ohnward Fine Arts Center, the Hurstville Interpretive Center, a family YMCA, a $1.5 million Clinton Community College Maquoketa Center, and the Clinton Engines Museum, among other attractions.

Rural charm and friendliness are hallmarks of this community set among lush, rolling hills and bordered on the north by the Maquoketa River. It is three hours from Chicago to the east and Des Moines to the west. It's also 30 minutes from Dubuque to the north and the Quad Cities to the south. Maquoketa has all the amenities that make it an easy place to work, live and play: utilities, banks, police and fire service, a variety of local merchants, thriving industry, a movie theater and a drive-in theatre, a YMCA, a library, a local radio station and newspaper, restaurants, outdoor recreation, music and art venues, churches, multiple service organizations and clubs, and more.

The community has invested in new trails, a stellar community school district and modern medical services anchored by the Jackson County Regional Health Center. It hosts an annual Spring Cleanup through its Hometown Pride program. Newly rebuilt streets and sidewalks, a downtown façade program, and a pocket neighborhood development add to the recreational, cultural, and business opportunities that make Maquoketa a great place to be for people young and old.

The Maquoketa Chamber of Commerce works to improve and strengthen the community and businesses, big and small. Whether you're looking to grow your business, continue your success, or relocate to our great community – we are here to help.

The quality of life in Maquoketa is truly One of a Kind. There has never been a better time to call this beautiful Midwestern town home.

The Maquoketa Chamber of Commerce is at your service: 124 S. Main St., Maquoketa, IA 52060; (563) 652-4602; maquoketachamber.com; or on Facebook at Maquoketa Chamber.

Welcome to town!

Need help getting around?

If you need to find baseball diamonds, scenic trails along the Maquoketa River, or information about upcoming community events, look no further than one of the three wooden information kiosks around town.

The kiosks are located on the southwest corner of the downtown greenspace at South Main and East Pleasant streets, next to the pavilion at Prairie Creek Recreation Area, and near the pedestrian bridge that spans the Maquoketa River by the Grove Street ball diamonds. Visitors also can stop by the Maquoketa Chamber of Commerce Office at 124 S. Main St. for information on local attractions, maps and other areas of interest.

If you are a new resident of Maquoketa, the Maquoketa Chamber of Commerce is here to help connect you with resources and information about the community. Stop by and visit us at 124 S. Main St., call (563) 652-4602 or (800) 989-4602, or check out our website (maquoketachamber.com) and Facebook page (Maquoketa Chamber) for news and events. There's also a link to helpful information for newcomers regarding services and amenities at maquoketachamber.com/moving-here/.

Contact the Chamber or Young Dental for a Welcome Kit, which includes brochures, coupons and other promotional items from local businesses and organizations.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

The Jackson County Economic Alliance (JCEA) facilitates, leads, and promotes organized economic growth to improve the quality of life and to protect and create jobs through innovative and conventional programs within the community. Based in Maquoketa, the JCEA works to permanently bolster the economic climate in the city and throughout Jackson County.

Maquoketa is a great place to expand, relocate or start a new business, and the JCEA staff can help with its extensive experience, knowledge of the area, skill at procuring grants, and focus on partnerships.

The largest industries in Maquoketa are health care and social assistance, manufacturing, and retail trade. The area also has many people involved in agriculture, whether they are farmers or people working in an ag-related business. Maquoketa is home to two industrial centers that house manufacturing, assembly and warehousing operations.

The JCEA's goals are business retention, expansion and recruitment; creating higher-wage industry jobs; and promoting new construction. The organization also promotes area businesses and industries through Manufacturing Month events and career and hiring events.

Recognizing that quality of life efforts are important tools for the successful recruitment and retention of a skilled workforce, JCEA has worked extensively with local communities and organizations to enhance recreational opportunities across Jackson County. It also partners with Maquoketa's Hometown Pride committee, which tackles local challenges and opportunities including housing, downtown revitalization and building community capacity. (thejcea.org)

THE HEART OF TOWN:

BUSINESS, CULTURE AND RECREATION MEET

Maquoketa has two major business districts – Main Street running north to south and the Platt Street Corridor running east to west. Along those routes are restaurants, a brewery, antique shops, a boutique hotel, dental and doctor's offices, gas stations, pharmacies, retail shops, veterinarians, dog grooming and daycare services, chiropractors, a dry cleaner, beauty salons and spas, furniture and flooring stores, law offices, insurance agents, hardware and grocery stores, banks, financial advisors and more.

The center of the downtown area is the Greenspace at the corner of South Main Street and East Pleasant Street. This public space hosts concerts and other outdoor events and is anchored by "Gables," a public art piece designed by Maquoketa native and Chicago-based architect Daniel Caven and built by local contractor Schueller & Sons.

The Greenspace is the site of many community events during the year, including the Fireball: Bash on the Ash, hosted by the Maquoketa Firefighter's Association, as well as a Summer Concert Series. Some events spill into the surrounding streets, such as the annual Maqtoberfest celebration, which features live music as well as foods, meals, crafts, and other items made or grown locally.

Just across the street from the Greenspace is the Maquoketa Art Experience (Maquoketa-art.org) at 124 S. Main St. The venue displays artwork, hosts public workshops for

OTHER ATTRACTIONS AND ONE-OF-A-KIND AMENITIES

Maquoketa is a city rich in history and an appreciation for its agricultural and industrial roots. It also celebrates the beauty of the natural landscape, from limestone bluffs and winding waterways to scenic prairie and thriving woodlands. Its' many one-of-a-kind amenities reflect a diversity of life and commitment to community.

The Maquoketa Municipal Airport has eight T-hangers that are available for rent plus the community hangar with up to five spaces. It is operated by the Maquoketa Airport Commission. (maquoketaia.com/airport/)

The interactive displays at the Clinton Engines Museum tell the story of Clinton Engines Corp., one of the world's leading producers of small gasoline engines. The site yielded over 18 million engines, making the company Iowa's 10th largest employer and drawing workers from more than 33 communities in three states. Clinton engines were used around the world on hundreds of different machines. The museum, located at 607 E. Maple St., is also the place where people can go to do genealogical research as it is the home of the Jackson County Research Genealogical Chapter. It also features the LaMotte Depot on its grounds. This restored station is a real gem that harkens back to 1910. (clintonengines.com)

From mid-May to mid-October, fresh produce, baked goods, meals, music, and education are on tap at the Maquoketa Farmers Market from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. in the Ohnward Fine Arts Center parking lot, 1215 E. Platt St.

Food vendors and live music make the market a community experience where people can stock up on locally produced food and enjoy the outdoors with friends and neighbors. Patrons also can enjoy local wine, root beer, jellies and an occasionally expanded selection of booths featuring arts and crafts vendors.

For more information on the Market, visit its page on Facebook.

Just a short drive away is the unique music venue Codfish Hollow Barnstormers (codfishhollowbarnstormers.com).

The owners have turned the old barn into a space for performers of all genres, and there is food, camping and art onsite. Open to all ages, Codfish Hollow hosts local and national indie bands. It's located at 5013 288th Ave.

Hurstville Interpretive Center gives visitors a chance to learn about woodlands, prairies, wetlands, and history with more than 20 activities and exhibits. Part of Jackson County Conservation, the center is staffed with environmental educators who can answer questions about your natural surroundings and more. The center, located at 18670 63rd St., hosts indoor and outdoor programs and activities year-round. It has activities for people of all ages.

(mycountyparks.com/county/jackson/Park/Hurstville-Interpretive-Center.aspx)

Hurstville Lime Kilns is a three-acre historic site featuring a roadside rest area with a picnic shelter. Interpretive signage tells visitors the story of the kilns, and a stairway allows people to walk up around the kilns. Tours are available to groups or families upon request. Contact the Jackson County Conservation office at (563) 652-3783 to schedule a tour with an education staff member.

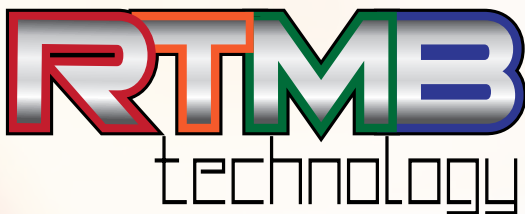

Jackson County Historical Museum is located at Pearson Memorial Center on the Jackson County Fairgrounds, 1212 E. Quarry St. The 22,000-square-foot space has two floors of displays that show agriculture, industry, business, education, and personal history of Jackson County. Information about the museum is available from the Jackson County Historical Society (jciahs.com).

A newer addition to the city is the Jackson County Veterans Memorial Park at 112 E. Jefferson St., which was built to honor personnel from the five service branches. The Army, Navy, Marines, Air Force, and Coast Guard are represented on the five colored markers and flags flying high above them at the northernmost point of the memorial.

Maquoketa has two active veterans groups: Timber City American Legion Post 75 and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3633 and Auxiliary.

HISTORY

The name Maquoketa was derived from the river that flows just north of the city and means in the Indian language “Bear River.” This stream was known by the Indians as maquaweutaw meaning “there are bears.” At that time, there were a great number of bears which inhabited its banks and the streams that fed the river.

Although the spelling evolved to Maquoketa, the original plat showed the name as Makoketa, and records kept by postal clerks show that mail has been received and delivered with Maquoketa spelled more than a thousand ways.

Maquoketa has been known as the “Timber City” since about 1870 because of the many trees that line the streets. In January 1838, J. E. Goodenow and Lyman Bates from upper New York state headed west with a wagonload of trade goods.

They crossed the frozen Mississippi

HISTORY

River and settled at the future site of Maquoketa. Goodenow and Bates had joined the steady stream of settlers migrating west into the vast lands of the Louisiana Purchase. In 1839, other settlers mostly from New York, arrived at the new settlement. That same year, Goodenow built a corn cracker, and in 1842 a flour mill was constructed. Goodenow later built a brick oven, a pot kiln for making brick lime for mortar. The town's location on the post road between Dubuque and Davenport made it a popular rest stop for pioneers heading west.

In 1840, Goodenow established a post office under the name Springfield. The name already had been claimed by other communities, however, and the Post Office Department requested a change. On March 3, 1844, the town officially became Maquoketa. The town was incorporated in 1853 with a population of 300.

In 1854, the first fair was sponsored by the Agricultural Association. That same year, W.C. Swigart published the Jackson Sentinel, and the Maquoketa Excelsior was established two years later. The city's efforts to attract rail service were rewarded in 1870 when the first train chugged into town. In 1873 Maquoketa became the permanent seat of Jackson County. The Decker House and the 800-seat Harris Opera House were built in 1876. A disastrous fire in 1882 prompted the establishment of a volunteer fire department and construction of a brick firehouse in 1901.

Over the years Maquoketa's industrial concerns have included a woolen mill, a brewery, furniture builder, a cigar maker, wagon and pump makers, and foundries.

HEALTH CARE

Jackson County Regional Health Center (JCRHC) has provided healthcare and wellness programs since 1949, and a new $37.2 million campus that opened in 2021 will continue that legacy for years to come.

The state-of-the-art, publicly owned facility surrounded by native prairie is bordered on its south side by U.S. Highway 61, making it possibly the most visually prominent public landmark in Jackson County. The 25-acre campus features 28,000 square feet divided between two levels, a navigation-friendly design and medical services befitting a small-market community on the move.

Patient services include surgery, radiology, lab, specialty clinics, pharmacy, inpatient care and skilled care, physical therapy and rehabilitation, diagnostic imaging and 24/7 emergency care. The hospital is licensed for 25 beds. A caring, expert staff attest to the hospital's motto: Better health starts here. (jcrhc.org)

One man's junk is another man's treasure, and the bargains are to be found at spring and fall Citywide Garage Sales held in Maquoketa each year. Contact the Chamber at (563)-652-4602, or the Maquoketa Sentinel-Press at (563) 652-2441 for more information and dates.

The Great Maquoketa Scavenger Hunt comes to town each spring. Team members stay in their vehicles as cryptic clues lead them across Maquoketa. Teams take a selfie at each destination, post it on Facebook, then proceed to the next destination. (maquoketachamber.com)

On Spring Clean-Up Day, you'll see volunteers out sprucing up city parks and other public spaces with fresh coats of paint, fixing fences, raking or doing other work aimed at keeping Maquoketa beautiful and fostering hometown pride. It is also a day when residents can dispose of bulky and hazardous household items. (Maquoketa Hometown Pride on Facebook)

In June, the community honors those who have been affected by cancer with the Relay for Life at the Jackson County Fairgrounds. The event includes a Survivor/Caregiver Walk and a Luminaria Ceremony, in which each light represents a life—a life taken by cancer, a survivor of cancer, or a support for a person still fighting the disease. (Relay For Life of Jackson County IA on Facebook)

Each summer since 2015, the Maquoketa Firefighter's Association has hosted Fireball:

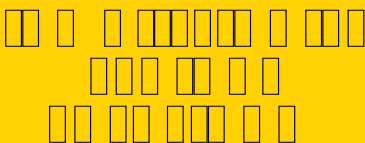

Bash on the Ash. The event is located at the downtown Greenspace, which was the site of a Jan. 19, 2008 fire that destroyed several businesses on a sub-zero night. The Association plans a night of musical entertainment and food for the community to enjoy. (bashonthearth.com)

The Jackson County Fair in July kicks off with one of the best parades around through downtown Maquoketa. The weeklong event includes livestock shows, 4H projects, a truck and tractor pull, stock car races, music concerts, kids day, an array of food and treats, carnival rides, a car show, and more. It all culminates with the popular Night of Destruction. (jacksoncountyiowafair.com)

Maquoketa's downtown Greenspace is the backdrop for the annual Summer Concert Series. Six free concerts are open to the public, who can bring lawn chairs or a blanket to spread. Food is available to buy. (Summer Concert Series/ Maquoketa on Facebook).

The Jackson County Historical Society hosts a Heritage Day dinner the first Sunday in November at Pearson. (jciahs.com)

Maquoketa celebrates the arrival of fall with Maqtoberfest. Sponsored by the Maquoketa Hometown Pride committee in conjunction with other local organizations, the event features food, crafts, meals, clothing, and more – all made or sourced in Jackson County. Toss in some live music and you have a free, family-friendly celebration that says goodbye to summer and hello to fall in Maquoketa and Jackson County. (maqtoberfest.com)

Streets come alive with caroling and festive decorations during It's a Wonderful Life in Maquoketa holiday celebration in November. Merchants offer specials, extended hours and punch cards. There is a family fun day featuring Santa and Mrs. Claus and many hands-on activities. There's also a community tree-lighting ceremony, and a residential decorating contest. (maquoketachamber.com)

EDUCATION

The Maquoketa Community School District is located about halfway between Dubuque (to the north) and Davenport (to the south). It serves about 1,333 students in four buildings, which consist of two elementary buildings, one middle school, and one high school. After sixth grade, it serves students from Sacred Heart Elementary School in Maquoketa, as well as students from Delwood Elementary and Andrew Elementary, which are in neighboring districts.

“Maquoketa CSD is a place where all students and staff can expect to receive high levels of learning and provides a caring environment that embraces our families and community as partners. Our staff is committed to educating the whole child and supports our students’ academic and social emotional growth,” said Superintendent Tara Notz.

prepare students to be career and college ready, including career and technical programs such as a Welding Academy and CNA program. The district has a strong partnership with Clinton Community College, which provides college coursework at the Maquoketa campus.

“Our partnerships with a variety of community organizations provide support in many ways through mentoring, reading with students and fundraising, which has allowed us to provide improvements such as an updated football field complex, marching band uniforms and a new agricultural building,” Notz said.

“At MCSD, we are committed to continuous learning, reflection and growth to provide our students with the tools they need to achieve their goals after high school,” she added. “The people (our staff, students, families and our community members) is what makes Maquoketa a unique and extremely special place to live, work and receive an education!” (maquoketaschools.org)

EDUCATION

Sacred Heart Catholic School is a private school serving students through sixth grade. According to its mission statement: Sacred Heart School is a strong faith community which provides a God-centered learning environment that promotes stewardship and 21st century skills as we form the whole person. (sacredheartmaq.org)

Maquoketa also offers several daycare and preschool centers including Sunshine Preschool & Daycare (sunshinemaquoketa.org), Sacred Heart Preschool and Childcare (sacredheartmaq.org), Little Shepherd Christian Preschool (Little Shepherd Preschool/Day Care on Facebook) and Head Start Center (hacap.org).

The Clinton Community College Maquoketa Center

is a 11,000-square-foot building housing two state-of-the-art computer labs, a large meeting room, four classrooms and additional learning space. That facility and the adjacent Advanced Manufacturing Center are a partnership between Eastern Iowa Community Colleges and the Maquoketa Community School District. Students can earn an associate's degree, take non-credit continuing education classes, college credit, or dual enrollment classes, and prepare for the high school equivalency test. The school also serves area business and industry clients and provides training and re-training opportunities for employers. (eicc.edu/about-eicc/colleges-and-centers/cc-maq-center/index.aspx)

It's your story, Maquoketa.

It's our job to share it.

The Maquoketa Sentinel-Press' fundamental goal is to help our community understand itself through fair, objective journalism. We believe that honest information is powerful, and we believe it is a vital ingredient in good decision-making and effective self-government. We will strongly advocate for government transparency and accountability, fair play and an honest assessment of public issues. We also will endeavor to ensure that all individuals and reasonable ideas are given fair hearing. Beyond that, our work should help provide connective tissue for our communities, helping businesses succeed through marketing services and binding people together through shared experiences, accomplishments and celebrations.

RECREATION

Fishing, hiking, bowling, golf, canoeing, kayaking, running, biking, camping, exploring. Whether you seek physical activity or simply want to enjoy nature at a more leisurely pace, Maquoketa offers a variety of recreational opportunities for all ages on land and water.

If you like to bowl, check out Timber Lanes (timberlanesandthetimbercenter.com) at 1005 E. Platt St.

Golfing is another popular activity. The Maquoketa Country Club offers a private, nine-hole golf course (maqcountryclub.com). The Jackson County Fairgrounds also has a driving range open to the public.

Maquoketa operates several public parks and trails in the community complete with picnic tables and shelters, playground equipment, disc golf, ball and soccer fields, tennis courts and more. One of six city parks, Little Bear Park, 400 W. Quarry St., features a playground that was redesigned and rebuilt by the Maquoketa community. The city has a skate park and ball field. It also has a radio-control car park near the fairgrounds.

The 11.2-acre Horseshoe Pond park, on south edge of the city at 905 S.

Main St., has a

2-acre fishing pond and 16 recreational vehicle campsites. For your four-legged friends, the Maquoketa Dog Park is open daily from dawn until dusk and is located at the top of the hill also in Horseshoe Pond Park. There are no fees and the dog park is open to the public. Please note the park rules posted at the entrances.

Information about the parks is available from the City of Maquoketa (maquoketaia.com/parks).

The fishing is also good at Lakehurst Dam. Located on the northwest side of the city along the Maquoketa River,
